

WORCESTER'S REVOLUTION

A TOWN THAT DEFIED AN EMPIRE

A Sidewalk View of Revolutionary War Worcester

Presented by Bob Stacy, Worcester Historical Museum and Salisbury Mansion Site Manager. "Worcester was one of the most radical centers for independence. And there are some people, several historians, who believe the revolution really didn't start in Boston or Lexington and Concord, but started in September 1774 here in Worcester." Join us for this intriguing presentation and learn how the American Revolution began with a peaceful, historic, popular uprising in Worcester, MA in 1774.

Thursday, November 17, 2022, 6:30-7:30PM
at the Auburn Public Library, 376 Southbridge St.

Free to the Public. Arranged by

Friends of the Auburn Public Library

RSVP to friendsofauburnlibrary@gmail.com

Or visit our Facebook group page Event to let us know you are going:

Friends of the Auburn Public Library - Auburn, Massachusetts

This program is supported by a grant from the Auburn Cultural Council, a local agency which is supported by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency.

